POLARION
VOLUME XXXVII
JUNE 1995*

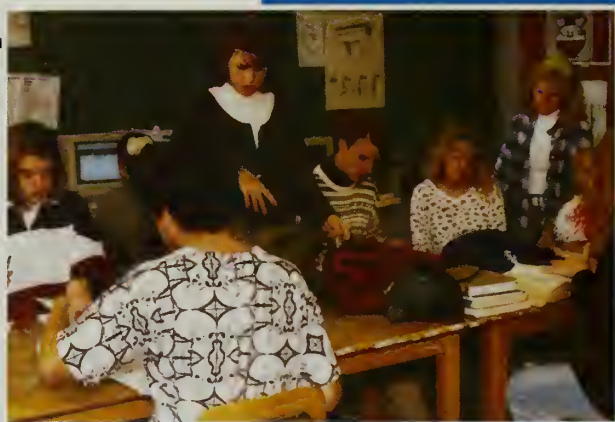

I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch where thro
Gleams that untravell'd world whose margin fades
for ever and for ever when I move.
-Tennyson

"A friend should be one in whose understanding and virtue we can equally confide, and whose opinion we can value at once for its justness and sincerity."

-Robert Hall

"You will surely leave your mark on the world, but just remember to let the world leave its mark
on you."

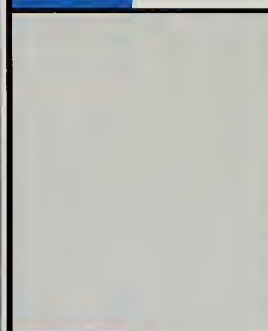

"By friendship you mean the greatest love, the greatest usefulness, the most open communication, the noblest sufferings, the severest truth, the heartiest of counsel..."

-Jeremy Taylor

Someday when we both reminisce
We'll both say there wasn't too much we missed
And through the tears, we'll smile and recall
We had it all- for just a moment.

"To improve the golden moment of opportunity and catch the good that is within our reach, is the great art of life."

-Johnson

None of us is born the same,
We don't know why,
it's the way we came Every heart beats a little differently, each soul is free, to find its way
Like a river that winds its way to the sea.

Senior year should be a breeze,
 Easy courses and walks in the April rain.
 But I've never been under so much pressure in my life.
 I wake up every morning
 with knots in my stomach.
 I have chewed my fingernails to my elbows.
 And those days without headaches are rare.
 but even if my body totally deserts me,
 It's a small price to pay for high grades and a good college.
 I have to be the best.
 Second place is no place at all.
 Pass the valium please.
 My mother warns me to slow down,
 But I can't.
 She doesn't know that life is a jungle,
 Even in high school.

Life is a journey, and there are many roads
beneath the sky
And there are many good people who don't see eye to eye.
Not every man can sing your tune, from where he stands,
there's another view.

There are many roads to go,
And they go by many names,
They don't all go the same way,
But they get there all the same.

With every turn, we're learning more,
And perhaps we'll find that the walls
we build,
Are only in our minds.

"Friends and myself
wish to leave here,
go there
to see what we've heard and to hear what we've seen

"I am not mad, I am interested in freedom...."

-James Douglas
Morrison

I have a feeling,
That we'll meet Somday, Were the roads come together Up the way

Senior Year. It got here much quicker than we thought. It went by much faster than we could have imagined. Suddenly, we became the big kids on the block. It was our year!! In the middle of it all there was a lot of work to do. At times, it was difficult to stay focused but WE DID IT....

SENIORS

...And then Graduation. That bitter-sweet time when you're happy to be moving on but sad to leave the friends and good times behind. We just couldn't believe it's over already: the spirit, the excitement, the parties, four years of friendships....

Mr. Paulson will still be saying "This day in History."
The Girl's Volleyball team will be state champs.
The lunches will be longer so we can actually eat.
Jenny, Ray, Robin, and Erika will be working in a crayon factory.
We will miss Apponequet.

Remember

We were Freshmen and so was Mr. Conro.
Mr Tripp's Lev I class went to visit Buttercup and then went on Dave's Trampoline.
Food Fights during Junior year.
8100 invaded 8200 on Pirate's Day.
Boy's Swim team at the 93 Winter Pep Rally.
Mr. DeMello got hair for Christmas.
Justin V. fell when Dave kicked his crutches.
Lunch was less than a buck and you got more food.
We would all fight with Mr. Lagadec
The class of 95 won the pep rally as Juniors.
Kelley's pocketbook fell out the window during Chemistry.
We could be tardy every day and nobody cared.
Debbie's shoes didn't match her outfit.
Marc Rousseau was a preppy.
Shanon left Tamie's car running all day.
We could go outside to get to class.
Michelle and Challis were laughing so hard they fell.
Mr. Jorgensen flew ADDY!!!!
Mrs. Dobrowsky lost her charm in the heating vent.
Dan White had hair.
Kent got in an accident the day he got his license 8th grade crumpets.
Thanksgiving dinner at first lunch.
We could wear jackets.
Michelle Pelletier stayed on the road.
There were no police in Lakeville.
Milk cost a dime.
We actually needed a map to find our way around school

The Cheerleaders of 93-94.
We had school the days of the blizzards.
The teacher's strike in 7th grade.
Bridget and Alicia wiped down the car after Supersports.
People wore backpacks on one shoulder.
We all got in-house because we skipped school and went to the beach.
Getting kicked out of the library was a weekly ritual.
Nicole was on fire in Mrs. Rose's room.
We had TDA.
Mr. Lafferiere's Honors Physics class took a trip to Rachel's Grandmother's house.
Elvis was spotted at Apponequet.
All the doors were locked and we felt like we were in a prison.
Mr. Homen took the lid off the historical pot- and "Woah Baby."
We tried to make a fossil of Heather's face.
Jay Coite had no beard.
Getting out of your driveway was a hazardous thing (Meri and Kerrie)
Nate had teeth
CO, AL, and TK skipped school and ran to the woods.
JD mooned us all at Pee Wee Olympics.
Kel D walked into every door.
We brought newspapers to the basketball game.
Mr Couture gave us bumper stickers that said "Physics is fun"
Mrs Powers stepped in the garbage can.
Jay said "Howy Cwap the battewy is swowwen"
Jared dressed up like a cheerleader-and had nice legs.
Alicia's sixteen point turn in the chevy.
Mrs B's government class had a mock trial.
Mrs Dobrowsky told great stories of her life.
Kel, Ann, and Meg tripped up and down every staricase in Boston.
Snap bracelets were in.

When...

Class Will...

I, Wendy Harrold, leave my video camera and my Bel Biv Devoe tape to Kelley Oliveira because I know how much she likes them.

I, Aimee, leave Jenn Barbosa the electric chair because I wasn't screaming for nothing.

I, Karen Giovannini, leave Wendy, Robin, + Jeff an unlimited supply of pink jelly beans.

I, Jenn Wood, leave Nikki Breton a life size Pooh Bear.

I, Robin Belanger, leave Erika Furze a flashlight and knife to scrape the cat off the bottom of her car.

I, Maureen, leave a "Nantucket Sleigh Ride" to anyone who can stand up on it.

I, Jenny Reinhagen, leave Erika Furze a filter that doesn't let water through.

I, Kelley Oliveira, leave all of my really cool clothes and CD's to Wendy Harrold because she wants to be me.

I, Missy Andrade, leave my racing sneakers to Meri Beaton + Amy Lucas so that they won't forget what is smelled like to open our gym locker.

I, Meri, will leave a book of my driving tips to J.K. since she'll have some spare time on her hands.

I, Kate Quinn, leave Stacey Moniz a Slush Puppy because we could never find one when we wanted one.

I, Sheri Landers, leave my Harry Connick Jr. Christmas tape to Rachel Martowska.

I, Anne-Marie Rosa, am going to leave a pair of rubber gloves to Mari Kowalski because she always steals them from the Doctor's office.

I, Erin Kelley, leave Erika Furze a book of poetry on the Titanic.

I, Kristi Wills, leave my softball shirt to Caryn Haskins, because she has many of the same dreams as I do.

I, Samantha Lussier, leave Megan Brady a bowl of cranberries and Tide with bleach because it saved the game.

I, Rachel Martowska, leave my Pantera CD's to Sheri Landers.

I, Kevin Kuthan, leave all my second place awards to Mr. Thibeault to show that a true athlete doesn't always have to win.

I, Justin Varricchione, leave my watch to whoever finds it because I lost it again.

I, Jared Horton, leave with a thought for all underclassmen, High School can be the best four years of your life, Have Fun!

We, the volleyball seniors, leave next year's team a great season + new uniforms.

I, Erika, leave Wes more sleep for his eyes + longer homeroom.

*I am on a quest.
 I am on a quest to find what everyone else is looking for.
 I search for meaning where nothing makes sense.
 I look for what will always go unnoticed,
 And I try to find out
 Why it all happens,
 And why am I doing this,
 And why are we even here,
 And as I do this I try to piece it all together.
 I look for that one universal piece of twine to tie it all up.
 And I think I've just found it.
 There must be some way I can express to you what I now know,
 But I can't find the words.
 I am on a quest.*

*Don't put me on a pedestal
 Maybe I'm afraid of heights, and anyway
 I don't deserve your respect.
 My smile is too big and my words are too awkward.
 I may appear enlightened but I live in the dark, and yet
 All that you see radiating from my frame is light.
 Maybe you should adjust your perception of excellence
 Or just take off those rose-colored glasses.
 My life is not all parties and predicaments, fun and games,
 Black and white.
 I am complex and I deserve to be misunderstood,
 Not marveled at.
 So don't put me on a pedestal
 When you're the one whose feet never touch the ground.*

Mr. Joel Fernandez was a member of the Math Department from 1965-1994 at Apponequet Regional High School.

Mr. Robert Dorsey taught Social Studies from 1961-1994 here at Apponequet.

Both of these men have taken advantage of an early retirement incentive and, as of last June, have taught their last Geometry and Psychology courses.

While the system is now without two teachers that could arguably be called "institutions", the Apponequet community is pleased that they have been given this opportunity to approach retirement sooner than expected.

It is with much gratitude for their collective years of service and much respect for what they have accomplished that we say goodbye.

The Apponequet High School community, staff and students alike, extends to Mr Fernandez and Mr. Dorsey our sincere best wishes for a happy, healthy, and successful retirement.

In the foreground, a player is crouched low to the ground, her body angled towards the left, ready to field an incoming ball. She is wearing a dark jersey and a headband. Behind her, two other players are visible. One player, on the left, has the number '20' clearly visible on the back of her dark jersey. Another player is partially visible behind her. The background is slightly out of focus, showing the field and possibly some spectators or structures in the distance. The overall scene conveys the dynamic and competitive nature of the sport.

Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein orders his troops to the border of oil-rich Kuwait. The U.S. sends 350 warplanes to the area to support the Kuwaiti forces. By October 11, Hussein orders the withdrawal of most of his forces.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin calls out his poorly trained military to subdue a rebellion in Chechnya, a southern republic the size of Connecticut. Critics accuse Yeltsin of resorting to totalitarian methods of the old communist Soviet regime to keep the shaky Russian Federation unified.

Europe's worst flood in this century kills at least 30 people across Europe. Inland floods caused by melting Alpine snow and relentless rains hit Belgium, France, Germany, and the Netherlands, whose famous dike system begins to crumble late in January 1995 in the face of rampaging rivers. Dutch authorities evacuate 250,000 people from the lowlands.

Camilla Parker Bowles, allegedly Prince Charles' mistress, announces her divorce from her husband, Andrew Parker Bowles. Princess Diana is said to be negotiating a divorce from Charles, who will be free to remarry without giving up the throne—unless unhappy subjects force a referendum on the monarchy.

More than 900 passengers die, 140 are rescued when the Estonia, a 15,500-ton Baltic ferry sinks off the coast of Finland in a violent nighttime storm. The storm's 30-foot waves swamp the ship which lists and sinks in a matter of minutes.

On July 25, U.S. President Bill Clinton welcomes King Hussein of Jordan, right, and Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin to the White House, where the two sign a historic nonaggression pact that ends a 46-year state of belligerency between Israel and Jordan.

Conservative religious groups and those who believe in individual rights clash over issues of education for women and family planning at the U.N. International Conference on Population and Development in Cairo, Egypt, September 5.

Joyful residents of Belfast celebrate after the Irish Republican Army (IRA) announces an end to its military operations in Northern Ireland as of August 31. After 25 years of British military presence and over 3,000 killings, the IRA says it will now seek Irish union only through political channels.

Tipper Gore, wife of U.S. Vice President Al Gore, visits Rwandan refugee camps in Zaire in July. Thousands of refugees, fleeing ethnic conflict in Rwanda, die of cholera, dysentery, and other infectious diseases. Fresh water supplied by the United States military greatly reduces the number of cholera deaths.

Palestine Liberation Organization chairman Yasir Arafat returns to Palestine in July 1994 after 27 years of exile in Tunisia. Arafat kisses the ground in the Gaza Strip, now a Palestinian autonomous zone under the terms of a 1993 peace accord with Israel.

Millions of South Africans travel weary hours and wait in mile-long lines to vote in the first all-race elections. After more than a century of white rule, the voters choose former political prisoner Nelson Mandela to preside over the dismantling of apartheid.

Jimmy Carter, former U.S. president and self-styled global troubleshooter for peace, negotiates on behalf of the U.S. in Haiti, Bosnia, and North Korea. He even offers to help settle the baseball strike.

Larry Downing, Sygma

U.S. President Bill Clinton, right, and British Prime Minister John Major take part in ceremonies in June 1994 at a military cemetery during the 50th anniversary commemoration of the Allied D-Day invasion of Europe, the event that sealed the fate of Nazi Germany during World War II.

India suffers an outbreak of pneumonic plague, carried by flea-infested vermin. Workers in Bombay earn five rupees for each exterminated rat; one thousand rat-tails earns a color TV.

Catherine Hennessey, iCONE

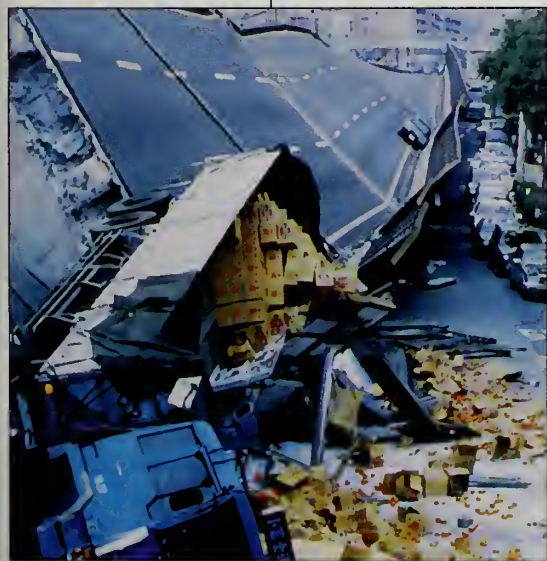

Chinese school children, dressed to look like Colonel Sanders, welcome the president of Kentucky Fried Chicken to Shanghai in May 1994. Few of the country's many foreign business ventures thrive, but KFC becomes a Chinese favorite. The finger-lickin' enterprise makes plans to expand its outlets from 28 to 200.

A triumphant Jean-Bertrand Aristide reclaims his position as president and restores democracy to Haiti with the help of U.S. troops. Haiti had suffered under the rule of a military junta led by General Raoul Cedras, who goes into exile after reaching an agreement with U.S. mediators.

In Japan, an earthquake with a magnitude of 7.2 collapses buildings, derails trains, buckles elevated expressways, and causes fires throughout the city of Kobe. Over 5,000 people are killed and 26,000 injured. The Japan quake occurs January 17, 1995, one year to the day after a quake devastated Los Angeles.

Allan Tannenbaum, Sygma

Thousands of Cubans flee their economically depressed homeland, hoping for a better life in America. Many set off on homemade rafts and other small vessels only to be intercepted by the U.S. Coast Guard. The United States and Cuba reach an agreement in September that allows 20,000 Cuban immigrants to enter the United States each year.

flash

In the wake of the 1994 Los Angeles earthquake and the southern California wildfires of 1993, California experiences more natural disasters in January 1995 when rains cause flooding that kills 11 people and leaves 3,000 others homeless. Flooding is so high in Santa Barbara, fun-seeking teenagers dive off a freeway overpass into 15 feet of water. President Clinton declares 34 counties federal disaster areas.

In 1994, the U.S. registers a one-year population growth of 2.7 million. One-third of the increase is due to immigration, the largest such influx since 1914.

Author and humanities professor, Ralph Ellison, dies at age 80. His 1952 novel, Invisible Man, has been called the most powerful novel written about alienation, identity, and racism in America.

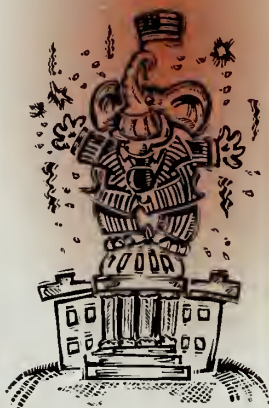

A huge increase in killings by 14- to 24-year-olds raises the nation's homicide rate, while violence blamed on preteens rocks communities nationwide. A boy, 13, is sentenced to life for strangling a four-year-old. In Chicago, an 11-year-old boy kills a 14-year-old girl and is then executed by his own gang. In Washington state a pair of 12-year-olds shoot a migrant worker.

The death of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis in May 1994 marks the end of an era, a time when America was prosperous, fighting for civil rights, and heading for the moon. The former first lady is buried next to her husband, President John F. Kennedy, in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D.C.

President Clinton, with Republican leader Bob Dole, signs legislation implementing the U.S. role in an expanded General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), one of the most sweeping trade liberalization pacts in history. The legislation makes the U.S. a member of a new 125-member World Trade Organization. Protectionists worry that GATT may promote world trade but won't sufficiently protect American jobs.

The Secret Service considers restricting public access to the White House after a gunman fires 27 rounds at the building's facade in October. In September, a small Cessna airplane crashes on the South Lawn and comes to rest at the base of the White House below President Clinton's bedroom, killing the pilot.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration blasts the tobacco company executives at a congressional hearing in March 1994 for denying that nicotine, a drug found in cigarette smoke, is addictive. When you first step foot in a new place, your mind fills with anxiety, hope, and fear of the unknown. Four years ago, we stepped into our high school life. We did not know what to expect or how to act, but somehow we survived

Now it is time to leave this place and step foot into yet another new setting. Someday, we will leave that place too. But no matter how long we stay, we will always make an impact on our surroundings. Never fear the unknown . . .

The familiar is a place of comfort. But the unknown is a place to achieve greatness. The Polarion Yearbook Staff wishes the classes of 1995, 1996, 1997, and 1998 the best of luck. We hope your high school memories have been preserved in this yearbook and in your hearts.
